

Deal Associate

Full-time/Internship (In-person/remote)

Company Description

Hyperedge FoF is a crypto Fund-of-Funds committed to investing in the best people and communities with a strong focus on venture capital funds backed by emerging managers and venture DAOs, to provide long-term, diversified exposure to blockchain innovation.

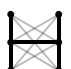

As an intern, your responsibilities will be grouped based on function group and will include but are not limited to:

Responsibilities

You will be working directly with Research Lead and the General Partner of the firm

- Capture new deal flow information with input from Hyperedge internal collaboration tools & external leads
- Maintain the repository of relevant project files, research reports, presentations, etc.
- Identify the data, information, and/or analysis needed to evaluate incoming deal flows and conduct timely, cost-effective research to support the opportunities
- Conduct due diligence on project team, community, and product via social tools such as LinkedIn, Twitter, Discord, Telegram, Medium, etc.
- Write investment memos and present to the research and deal team • Engage and support portfolio companies
- Help with other ad-hoc fund activities when needed

Requirements

- Undergraduate degree or above from globally renowned universities, or currently enrolled; technical background (e.g. computer science, electrical engineering) preferred
- Prior venture capital or investment experience preferred but not required
- Experience in the crypto & blockchain space highly preferred
- Ability to understand some technical aspects of DeFi/Blockchain projects and whitepapers preferred
- Proficient with writing investment memos
- Willingness and enthusiasm to learn new topics and be dynamic in a rapidly evolving company and space

Application

- The team culture is collegial and unique. You will have access to the top minds in the blockchain industry.
- If you are interested, please send your resume, eth address and favorite project with the subject line "[Deal Associate Application] Name-School-Major-Graduation Year" to talent@hyperedge.capital